[Midland] – Creative Spirit Center offers 2 hours of late winter fun for kids who like the stage. Instruction in improvisation, song and dance will create an atmosphere of fun and camaraderie. On a real stage, using the extensive props, costumes, materials, AV equipment and stage lighting, the instructors will guide the children while providing plenty of free creative play. Kids will be able to take what they learn to create their own fun show at home for family and friends.

About the Instructors

Jamie Ware has been onstage and backstage for the past 10 years. She is currently acting and stage managing. She has created crafts with children at Barnes and Noble, Rock the Tridge, River Days, Kids Day at the Mall and Creative Spirit Center birthday parties.

Gaia Klotz is a 10th grader at Midland High School. She is active in theater, drama, creative writing, forensics, drawing, and music. She has performed with the Blue Lake Arts Camp choir. She is currently editing the literary magazine for 6th – 9th graders, Beat the Drum, for Creative Spirit Center.

About Creative Spirit Center

Creative Spirit Center is a not-for-profit community arts organization founded in 1994. The Center's mission is to create an environment for people of all ages to experience the creative process through ongoing classes, conferences, concerts, speakers and outreach programs; and its goal is to enhance the development of physical, psychological and spiritual wellness through the arts and humanities.

Printed Winter/Spring 2009 schedules showing all classes and events at Creative Spirit Center are available at no charge. Telephone 837-1885 to have schedules delivered to your business or location, or mailed to your home.
